

PAUL WURTH SERVICING WAREHOUSING

MAXIMISE THE LIFETIME OF YOUR EQUIPMENT

A safe working environment, high availability and good product quality are only secured when machine and man function faultlessly. In addition, a minimum of unplanned production outages as well as shorter regular downtimes increase production and reduce costs.

Therefore a well-equipped warehouse with a proper stock of required spare parts is of major importance to ensure that the plant and machines produce consistently.

Paul Wurth is capable to work out different warehousing concepts starting from running an inventory analysis of your existing spare parts stock up to a complete warehousing concept.

WAREHOUSING

Expert know-how on site

Our activities are not ending with a successful commissioning of our scope of supply, but we start here our role as a partner throughout the lifetime of the plant and/or equipment delivered by us.

An important factor of a successful operation is a fully operative warehouse with the required logistics.

Our range of services for warehousing could be....

- Acquisition support / single point of access to parts of different suppliers
- Barcoded inventory management
- Requirements development/minimal stock level with maximised availability for production/inventory turnover
- Distribution management
- Scope management/multiuse of parts
- Strategic planning
- Asset management

Customised warehousing packages

A warehouse package fit for your requirements will be individually created in close cooperation with you, our customer.

You can decide starting from an inventory assessment up to the complete outsourcing of a cost-effective warehousing managed by us.
